

BOARD BRIEFS

Todd Terrill, Superintendent

July 8, 2015

Celebrations

David Woolpy presented a year-end report for the Boys and Girls Club. He discussed successes and benefits of the program, and future goals. He described the critical importance of the program at the Fairview Unit and its positive impact on students.

Todd Terrill provided a brief explanation of the roles of the new administrators. Bridget Hazelbaker, Communication Coordinator, will direct all media coverage and communication for the district through her office. Mike Shunneson, Director of Secondary Education, will be the corporation testing coordinator and support secondary principals by being present in the buildings, along with various other responsibilities. Corey Hartley, Director of Elementary Education, will be working with elementary principals, preschool, and Title I, among various other responsibilities. Sheila Hobbs, Exceptional Education Director, is responsible for nurses, Section 504, IEPs, and Special Ed. Chuck Reynolds, Assistant Superintendent, is responsible for supporting the three directors, among various other duties.

Third Grade Academy students hosted an art show and staff stopped by afterwards to share some of the students' artwork.

Action Items

Two of the action items on the board agenda included resolutions for the Highland Heights and Pleasant View buildings. These resolutions state that both properties are no longer needed for school purposes and to proceed with conducting appraisals.

Work Session

Prior to the Board meeting, the Success Committee met to review board themes. The committee will continue to make sure the themes align with the vision of the Board. Externally, the committee will focus on communicating with community partners to broaden the reach of RCS' positive message. The Board and audience broke into groups to discuss ways to demonstrate the success of the corporation. Information will be utilized from the work session to develop a plan going forward.
