Karrienne Polk-Meek Named as New Principal of Test Intermediate School

RICHMOND, March 20, 2019 – The Richmond Community Schools Board of Trustees approved Karrienne Polk-Meek as the new principal at Test Intermediate School. Polk-Meek replaces Stacy Mopps, who will be the new RCS Chief Human Resources Officer in July 2019.

Polk-Meek has 22 years of experience in education. She has worked as an elementary principal for the past 4 years at Starr Elementary School. She has also been an associate principal, instructional coach and teacher at Richmond High School. In 2009, she was named the RCS Teacher of the Year. In 2017, she was named the RCS Administrator of the Year. Polk-Meek has a bachelor's degree from Ball State University, and a master's degree from Earlham College.

“Karrienne is the right person to lead Test Intermediate School into the future,” said RCS Superintendent Todd Terrill. “She has served our district for 22 years, five of those years as an administrator, and during that time, she has demonstrated a passion to serve and ambition to grow as a leader.”

“I have been really fortunate to work with some amazing educators,” said Polk-Meek. “I look forward to continuing to serve the students, families and community. Richmond has an outstanding family culture where teachers nurture the whole student and I am lucky to be a part of that. I feel very proud to serve a district that focuses on support and growth for all.”

Karrienne and her husband, Glen, live in Wayne County. They have two children, Jared and Zoe.
