District-Wide Professional Development Day: “Power Up: Level Up Your Instruction!”

RICHMOND, IN December 15, 2017 – Richmond Community Schools will be hosting a district-wide professional development day for RCS educators on January 5, 2018. The highly anticipated event, titled “Power Up: Level Up Your Instruction” will bring RCS classroom teachers and additional certified staff together. Similar to last year’s district-wide professional development day, the approach is to provide teachers with professional development and to give every participant a new and exciting opportunity to engage in high-quality training that is based on the attendees’ choices and needs.

The keynote speaker will be blogger and motivational speaker Alice Keeler. She helps educators explore how technology improves leadership, learning and relationships with students.

Following Alice Keeler’s presentation, attendees will select four sessions based on their own interests and needs. Over 40 sessions will be led by RCS staff and Alice Keeler. To learn more about the day’s activities, please follow us on Twitter at #RCSPowerUp.
