Stacy Mopps Named as New Chief Human Resources Officer of Richmond Community Schools

RICHMOND, March 8, 2019 – Test Intermediate School principal Stacy Mopps is being promoted to Chief Human Resources Officer at Richmond Community Schools effective July 1. He is a longtime teacher and principal with 25 years of experience in education.

“Mr. Mopps is an outstanding educational leader whose work as chief human resources officer will have a significant and positive impact on our staff – and by extension – all of our students,” said Dr. Todd Terrill, Superintendent.

Mopps holds bachelor’s degree from Indiana University, and a master’s degree from Indiana Wesleyan. He is also a Richmond High School graduate.

“I am thrilled to join the district as the chief human resources officer,” said Mr. Mopps. “This is a fascinating time to be in education, and I feel very fortunate to work in such a great school district.”

Mopps and his wife, Joyce, live in Richmond. They have two daughters in college, Allison and Madeline.
